MEDICINAL

Women are vastly more patient than men. It is scarcely believable that a woman, suffering past all telling, can attend to business, and bend and stoop with a back whose ache is agony. And beyond all this she smiles as she bends and stoops about her customer. A man might swallow down an oath or keep back a groan, but his face would be like a thundercloud, and his voice scarcely disguise his irritation.

For women who suffer from backache, bearing-down pains, or other pains due to womanly diseases, there is no other medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It regulates the womanly functions, dries weakening humors, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. A vegetable preparation, it cannot disagree with the weakest condition.

"I wish to thank you for the good medicine you have sent me," writes Mrs. P. L. Smith, of Painesville, Ohio. "I was troubled with female weakness and with several different troubles. I had a very bad case of backache, and I suffered from it for some time. I had a very bad case of backache, and I suffered from it for some time. I had a very bad case of backache, and I suffered from it for some time."

HICKS FOR JANUARY.

The first day of the new year is the central day of a Vulcan storm period.

The moon will be at extreme north declination on the 2nd and at the full on the 3th.

The indications are that a change to southerly winds, rising temperature and falling barometer will be spreading eastward from western parts of the country in the opening days of January.

These conditions will result in rain and snow progressively across the country from about the 2nd to 5th, the culminating storms falling on and next to the 3rd and 4th.

A very active high barometer will follow these storms closely out of the northwest accompanied by high northwesterly winds and a cold wave.

The moon being at extreme north declination at this time will tend to hold the atmospheric tide northward from the equator, preventing in all probability that extreme cold which might certainly be expected were the moon at her south declination.

It is a fact not generally understood that the great volume, or swell of the atmosphere, may be attracted either to the north or south of the equator, with decided wind currents passing through it in the opposite direction. In such cases in our northern hemisphere, the barometer, as a rule, will not rise so high, and the cold will not be so severe, even with easterly winds, until the moon passes southward over the equator.

Reactionary disturbances will appear on and about the 7 to 9, causing change to warmer with falling barometer and more rain and snow. These perturbations will culminate on and touching the 9th, the date of the moon's passage southward across the celestial equator. Change to high barometer and much colder will wind up the reactionary storms.

On and about the 12th look for a rapid fall of the barometer in all western sections, followed by rising temperature and more storms of rain, wind and snow from the 12th to the 14th.

The moon is at apogee and last quarter on the 12th, facts tending to equalize and blunting storms on and near that date. The indications are that a cold wave of wide extent and marked severity will bring up the rear of storms from about the 12th to 14th, causing a general spell of very cold weather up to the reactionary change due about the 18th to the 20th. On these dates there will be a return to falling barometer, rising temperature and more storms of rain, wind and snow. Another sudden and sharp cold wave will follow these storms, spreading east and south immediately after the new moon on the 20th.

The storm diagram shows that the moon is in perigee and on the celestial equator on the 23rd, and the central day of a regular storm period. The Mercury period also extends into this period.

We predict that a marked fall of the barometer and change to warmer will set in about the 23rd, that storms of rain and probably thunder will develop in southern sections, and that snow, sleet and blizzards will visit central and northern sections from about the 23rd to 26th.

Arctic currents will flow down to meet the tropical conditions southward, drawing a great cold wave down over most parts of the country about the 24th to 27th. Mercury sleet storms will be accompanied to all the disturbances during the last part of January and into February.

This will be especially noticeable during reactionary storms which may be expected during the 27th to 29th.

MARRIED HER UNCLE.—The culmination of a rather romantic love affair occurred in Baltimore on Sunday last at a big wedding reception given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Morris G. Samuel, who were married on Thursday last in Providence, R. I. The groom is the stepson of his bride, and, being formerly opposed in his matrimonial intentions by the father and mother of the bride, the two eloped on Christmas Day. They were followed by the mother and father, however, who were in time to see them happily united.

The bride was Miss Bessie Krulwich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Krulwich, of Baltimore, and the groom is the stepson, Mr. Morris G. Samuel.

The young couple were told that their wedding would be a violation of the laws of the State, so they eloped to Providence, R. I., and were there made man and wife.

In its advanced and chronic form a cold in the head is known as Nasal Catarrh and is the recognized source of other diseases. Having stood the test of continued successful use, Ely's Cream Balm is recognized as a specific for membranous diseases in the nasal passages, and you should resort to this treatment in your own case. It is not drying, does not produce sneezing. Price 50 cents at druggists or by mail. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York. Give up prejudice and try it.

Pepsin preparations often fail to relieve indigestion because they can digest only albuminous foods. There is one preparation that digests all classes of food, and that is Kodol. It cures the worst cases of indigestion and gives instant relief, for it digests what you eat.
